What you're about to experience began with two lifelong best friends and two cities, each city with its own rich pizza tradition. Sean and Zach found themselves in the thick of the great pizza debate: New York thin crust versus Chicago deep dish. Drawn to the way each city created something unforgettable, the soon-to-be founders developed an obsession. From that moment they endeavored to create a place where people could experience both styles on the same table. After years of dreaming and developing, the first Two Cities Pizza Company opened, and the New York and Chicago experience was born.
